In 1868, there are many limits to what a 14-year-old girl is allowed to think and do, but intelligent Faith Sunderly refuses to let that stop her as she investigates the mysterious murder of her father on a small island off the coast of England. Was his most famous fossil discovery really a fake? Does the tree he kept hidden really feed on lies? A fascinating look at science, religion, magic, and feminism. Pick up your copy at the library and join the
